

Memo from MEMOS about memos

Message from MEMOS in the Peoples Democratic Utopian Kingdom

Disclaimer

This entire document is fictional and just like the minutes of many meetings you went to before lockdown. You remember when you scratched your head and thought for a moment, I was there and I don't recall agreeing to that?

Introduction

These memos are created by MEMOS – Master Executive Meme Office (of) Strategy. An independent think tank dedicated to advanced succinct messages (ASM). This team was created in response to the current economic downturn. With so many people either loosing their jobs or having less frequent meetings, where there were lots of memos, those before the meeting and those in response to the points discussed during the meeting. Not to mention all the other memos that staff receive on a regular basis. After much research it was found that many people were missing their regular memos. Hence MEMOS is here to provide the whole world with memos.

What is the number one problem in the fictional world right now?

Apart from peasants not obeying their masters? Memos, yes a lack of the number one top method of communication.

Since ancient times when runners would carry memos in the form of scrolls, memos have been a vital part of society.

Conclusion

We have created an entire section for downloadable MEMOS (Did you get the memo?). You can of course send these to your friends, no doubt they will be desperate for memos. You can help them.

Praise the dear leader.